

ABOUT THE STATE

Happenings of Interest from Different Sections.

Wendell Shaw of Bellows Falls, who is employed in a drug store in that place, had his hand badly lacerated Tuesday when his sleeve caught in the gears of the electric ice cream freezer, drawing his hand into the cogs.

Preparations are under way for the observance of the 100th anniversary of the dedication of the Congregational church in Marlboro, of which Henry W. Shaw has been pastor more than 30 years. The services will take place Sunday, Aug. 14.

Rutland county is to have a welcome home day for its soldiers, sailors and war workers on Sept. 3. Their entertainment is to include the Rutland county fair, a clambake and fireworks in the evening. They will omit the usual parade.

Carley P. Whitney of Marlboro died at the home of his son in Brattleboro on Thursday after an illness of three days. He was 84 years old and had been a farmer all his life till a few years ago, when he moved to Brattleboro to live with his son.

Rekiss Barr, aged eight, of Burlington was sentenced Friday to the state industrial school till Sept. 24, 1922. He was taken for breaking into the Burlington Fruit Co.'s store at the north beach and for a similar break into Booth's Drug store one Sunday afternoon. He took goods and money from both places, hiding the goods stolen from the fruit store in the sand on the beach.

A commission buying cattle for devastated France have made Chester their buying center for southern Vermont. The commission is made up of J. Detante, a noted French veterinarian, and L. Lamont, a cattle expert from France, assisted by Dr. H. A. DeFosse of Montpelier, Robert Gardner of New York as clerk, and James Travell of Trenton as interpreter. Only young grade cows that are healthy and suitable in every way are being taken.

The bobbin mill, owned by C. B. Carpenter, at Cavendish, has added itself to the list of striking shops. The men demand an eight-hour day instead of a nine-hour day under which they are now running. The things that did more than anything else probably to start the strike was the fact that the workers were asked when coming from their work by men who had quit an hour earlier in some other shops. The men hope to mediate, but the owner shows no inclination for mediation.

After devoting two whole days to the trial of the case of Arthur M. Merrill of Williamsville against Perley P. Albee of Townshend, the jury reported a verdict for the plaintiff to recover $13 of the $45 for which he was suing. The money was for the rental of a pasture and barn but the defendant had declined to pay it because it had not kept the number of cows that Mr. Merrill had claimed it would.

Burlington is promised relief from the present sugar shortage within a short time. Brown Young and Co. of New York are about to ship to that city two carloads of sugar to that town. Mr. Brown, who is representing the company in Burlington, said that the present shortage was due to lack of foresight on the part of the dealers, as there is plenty of sugar only they have failed to keep enough sugar on the rails to meet the demand.
